HORSES OF GETTYSBURG* DEBUTS NATIONWIDE ON DVD MAY 2, 2006

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania – February 10, 2006 – Inecom Entertainment Company is pleased to announce the May 2, 2006 release of Horses of Gettysburg. Narrated by Ronald F. Maxwell (director of the epic Civil War films Gettysburg and Gods and Generals) and directed by Mark Bussler, the feature-length documentary captures the relationship between soldiers and their horses.

Fourth in The Civil War Minutes® series, Horses of Gettysburg celebrates the honor and courage of the 72,000 horses and mules that fought in the epic battle.

The special edition 2-DVD box set contains a 116-minute Director's Cut from the High-Definition master tapes with more than 3 hours of additional DVD features that will entertain animal enthusiasts and those passionate about horses and American History.

Michael Bussler, CEO of Inecom Entertainment Company believes that, “Animal enthusiasts will be fascinated by the film and the additional features, such as Ronald F. Maxwell's 22-minute interview on working with horses in movies such as Gettysburg and Gods and Generals.”

According to director Mark Bussler, “The idea for the film started with questions like how many horses were involved in the Battle of Gettysburg, who fed them, how were they trained and what happened to them during the battle?” Not only does Horses of Gettysburg answer those questions but it also explores little known details like the number of Union and Confederate horses killed during the three-day battle, how the Army mule differed from the Army horse, how Union and Confederate horses were procured and how unscrupulous horse dealers tried to scam the Army.

Featured in the Special Edition 2-DVD Box Set:

- Horses of Gettysburg 116-minute Director's Cut from the High-Definition master
- Feature length Commentary Track with Ronald F. Maxwell, Mark Bussler and Doug Sloan, head wrangler for Gettysburg and Gods and Generals
- Feature length Commentary Track with writers Michael Kraus and David M. Neville and director Mark Bussler
- 22-minute interview with Ronald F. Maxwell on working with horses in movies
- 45-minute documentary with Eric Campbell, Gettysburg National Military Park Ranger and the author of A Grand Terrible Drama : From Gettysburg to Petersburg : The Civil War Letters of Charles Wellington Reed
- 40-minute Making of Horses of Gettysburg documentary
- 60-minute personal interview with Ronald F. Maxwell on his history in filmmaking
- 15-minute Horses of the White City documentary about the role of horses in the 1893 Chicago World's Fair
- 5-minute interview with Doug Sloan, head wrangler for Gettysburg and Gods and Generals
